COASTAL CLASSROOM SPRING 2020
INTERNERSHIP STUDENT APPLICATION

What is Coastal Classroom?
City Parks Education has been offering interdisciplinary environmental education programs in schools and parks since 1992. The Coastal Classroom after-school program focuses on coastal ecology, water quality, urban waterfront restoration and preservation on the NYC waterfront, with sites in Inwood Hill Park in Manhattan, Shoelace Park in the Bronx and Kaiser Park in Coney Island. Coastal Classroom will provide after-school programming for up to 30 middle school students at each of the 3 locations, using site-specific inquiry-based lessons to stimulate meaningful learning experiences in their own communities.

Between March and June, the Coastal Classroom after-school program will engage middle school students in coastal ecology and maritime training, through instruction as well as trips to coastal areas and visits to organizations performing similar work.

CPF has developed this fellowship opportunity for ambitious 11th or 12th grade high school students to gain hands-on experience and explore the environmental education sector while helping to promote stewardship of our waterways and coastal areas. Selected interns will gain valuable work experience, putting their knowledge and skills to use while expanding their knowledge of the field. This internship is a paid position.

The Coastal Classroom internship is an exciting opportunity. High school students who complete the apprenticeship will:
1. Learn more about coastal ecology
2. Receive training in program facilitation and peer instruction
3. Facilitate activities and provide instruction for groups of upper elementary and middle school-aged peers
4. Earn paid spring (and possibly summer) employment
5. Learn valuable skills that will help them in the workplace for years to come

Do I qualify for the Coastal Classroom internship program?
To be selected, you must be enrolled in High School and:
● Be at least 16 years old (by March 1, 2019)
● Demonstrate basic knowledge of coastal ecology
● Have an interest in working with upper elementary and middle school-aged students
● Commit to attending the training and internship work schedule

When does the spring internship begin?
● Training will take place in March and the program will run one afternoon per week at your assigned site
What time commitment does the spring internship involve?

- Interns will be placed at one of 2 locations:
  - Kaiser Park in Coney Island
  - Inwood Hill Park in Manhattan
- Internships will begin in March and last 12 - 14 weeks, depending on the site
- Interns will work a total of 3-6 hours per week
- Interns will earn a minimum hourly wage of $15/h

What are the responsibilities of the interns?

- Work as team members to assist lead educator, primarily on site
- Help lead groups of middle school students in developmentally appropriate lessons about marine ecology and/or rowing (rowing at Kaiser Park only)
- Support lead educator to complete occasional office work, such as assisting in lesson preparation, inventorying and other related tasks as needed
- Contribute to an ongoing blog for the CPF website and support the gathering of materials and anecdotes for our Facebook page
- Assist with data collection and recordkeeping.
- Help maintain, repair and protect boats, tools, and equipment, including waders, nets, buckets, water quality kits and other gear
- Assist in quick setup and breakdown, including moving heavy equipment (waders, nets, moving cart) and other physically-involved tasks

What qualifications do I need to meet to be a part of the program?

- Strong interest and basic knowledge of coastal ecology, such as marine ecosystems, marine life, data collection, and data analysis.
- On-water experience including basic navigational skills
- Commitment to helping younger students develop an interest in marine ecology
- Commitment to punctuality and attendance
- Ability to work independently and as part of a team essential
- Willingness to develop new skills and “can do” attitude required
- A desire to work outdoors from March to June
- Willingness to assist fully with physical aspects of setup and breakdown of the site to the extent of your ability
- Commitment to Coastal Classroom’s mission

How do I submit my application?

Mail your completed paper application to the address above, fax it to the number above, or email a digital copy to lgonzalez@cityparksfoundation.org.

When is my application due?

We will review applications until positions are filled and will start conducting interviews in February.

How do I know I’ve been selected?

Upon reviewing your application, apprenticeship supervisors will contact you only if you have been selected for an interview.
