

CityParks Play

Community Service Opportunities for High School Students

July-August 2023

CityParks Play provides free beginner tennis, golf, track and soccer instruction to thousands of children each summer in parks throughout New York City. A limited number of volunteer opportunities are available each year for high school athletes to get involved and assist our coaches at these programs. Participants receive in-the field experience while receiving HS volunteer credit and building valuable life and team-building skills.

Details:

- Eligibility: High school juniors or seniors who play for their school team or have competitive playing experience in one or more of the sports we offer.
- Program Schedule: Our sports programs generally take place on weekdays from 8:45am - 12 noon from July through mid-August. Note: Participants must commit to volunteering at least 2 mornings per week for 6 weeks to receive our community service acknowledgement letter.
- Training: Participants are required to attend a training in late June prior to the start of the program
- To Apply: We accept applications from April - May. Click here to apply: Volunteer Application Applicants who meet the requirements will be asked to attend a group and/or personal interview as part of the selection process, and will be notified within 2 weeks of their interview.

For more information: Contact Cory Greenspan:
cgreenspan@cityparksfoundation.org