SUMMERSTAGE

New York City's iconic SummerStage Festival is back for its 37th season, with 80 free and benefit performances in 13 neighborhood parks across the five boroughs.

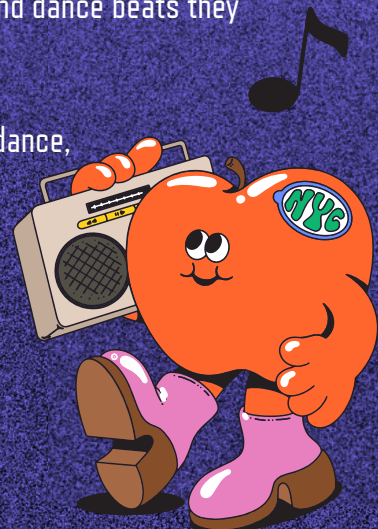

This summer, we celebrate the 50th anniversary of hip-hop, highlighting not only its history and significance to our city, but also the massive impact it has had on culture worldwide. In the 50 years since DJ Kool Herc's legendary parties, as b-boys and graffiti artists joined DJs and MCs to create an entirely new movement, hip-hop has gone through many transformations, but has been a constant on the SummerStage schedule. We're proud to count performances by such luminaries as Nas, Public Enemy, Cold Crush Brothers, Rapsody, Fat Joe, Q-Tip, The Lox, Biz Markie, LL Cool J, Big Daddy Kane, Mobb Deep, M.I.A and so many others as part of our festival's history.

This year, we're celebrating all the elements of hip-hop, bringing back seminal artists to recognize their contributions and introducing today's newest innovators. MCs will include Brooklyn resident MIKE, inviting the sharpest young rappers, including critically acclaimed poet and producer Noname, to his Young World festival; a Native Tongues reunion featuring Monie Love, Chi Ali and others; and Brooklyn native Special Ed bringing together Nice N Smooth, Buckshot of Black Moon, Masta Ace and others, to name just a few. Some of hip-hop's most influential DJs will take center stage including Clark Kent, Rich Medina, Tony Touch, Stretch Armstrong, D-Nice (The Originals), DJ Moma (Everyday People), Ron Gee, and, of course, the one who started it all, Grandmaster Flash, who will mark the "Birth of a Culture" in Crotona Park located in the Bronx - the borough where it all began. Street dance will be well represented by the Ladies of Hip-Hop, and graffiti will feature prominently with artist James Top, of the legendary Odd Partners Graffiti Crew, who will curate a series of famed artists painting murals at shows throughout the season.

We're also presenting hip-hop artists from around the world, showcasing the global influence and impact of hip-hop and New York City culture. Australian rapper L-FRESH the LION, set to play THE AUSSIE BBQ, will offer a glimpse of hip-hop through the lens of his Sikh and Punjabi heritage; Argentina's TRUENO and Puerto Rico's Villano Antillano will celebrate the Caribbean and reggaeton influence of the genre as part of the Latin Alternative Music Conference; Colombia's Goyo will draw on her country's Afro-Latin rhythms; Brazil's Emicida will use hip-hop to highlight his country's structural racism; and DJ Rekha will spin the fusion of Indian bhangra with hip-hop and dance beats they made famous at their Basement Bhangra parties.

Of course, we have also scheduled a full summer of jazz, indie rock, salsa, and contemporary dance, as you've come to expect from SummerStage. Artists including Juanes, Julia Jacklin, Tanya Tucker, Dorrance Dance, Stonebwoy, Jason Moran, and Dianne Reeves will grace our stages this season.

We can't wait to celebrate this season with you. See you in the parks!
