As a women-run festival with a mission of diversity and inclusion, SummerStage has helped to transform the future of the music industry by participating in the PRS Foundation's international Keychange pledge since 2019, presenting an annual lineup that features at minimum a 50:50 gender balance. SummerStage is one of the few local festivals that has achieved this goal. SummerStage is committed to gender and racial equity in its programming, and in 2023, more than 80% of our season lineup featured artists who identified as people of color and more than half of acts included women or artists that identify as genders other than male.

Capital One is the festival's title sponsor (Capital One City Parks Foundation SummerStage) and its official bank and credit card. A presenting sponsor since 2015, Capital One has helped SummerStage bring hundreds of artists to nearly a million audience members in parks all around New York City. This year, Capital One is launching two special promotions at SummerStage. The Capital One Best Seats On Us presented by DoNYC will invite fans to win access to VIP areas in Central Park, and cardholders will be encouraged to use the #ShareYourSummerStage hashtag on their shared concert photos for the chance to have their picture displayed as a SummerStage #1 Fan at select shows.

Subaru will present the 2024 Subaru Music Series at SummerStage in Central Park. This four show series will kick off on opening night with Andra Day on June 1 and continue on June 13 with Kim Gordon, on July 11 with Counting Crows, and culminate on August 23 with The Roots.

The artwork for this season was created by Brooklyn-based, award-winning illustrator and art director Eugenia Mello. Her illustrations have been commissioned for projects with renowned companies and organizations such as Planned Parenthood, Apple, UPS, Chase, Nike, Patagonia, The New York Times, and the Guggenheim Museum. Her rhythmic and colorful artwork wonderfully captures the colorful energy of the season.
