

In partnership with City Parks Foundation and NYC Parks, Partnerships for Parks It's My Park program engages tens of thousands of corporate volunteers in hands-on beautification projects throughout our city's neighborhood parks. Our projects are directly requested from NYC Parks and community leaders.

Get your company outside and make an impact! Through It's My Park, companies can care for and celebrate local green spaces through hands-on service projects, giving back to parks across the city. Our program is designed to respond to community needs through impactful beautification efforts, while engaging employee volunteers in a unique and enriching team-building experience. Activities range from gardening, painting park fixtures, shoreline cleanup, and much more.

Projects Include:

- Site preparation, project logistics, and permits
- Project breakdown and detailed agenda to share with your team
- All necessary tools, equipment, and materials (e.g. gloves, bags, paint, shovels, rakes, etc.)
- High-impact, hands-on volunteer project supervised by our Partnerships for Parks staff
- Customized impact report detailing project outcomes
- Photos from the day
- Remaining tools and materials are donated to parks and green spaces after your service project

Our team will match your group to a suitable project, date, and location, plan the details from start to finish, and be on site to lead your group.

Additional Service Day Options

- Have a smaller group? Our prescheduled Team Up Days are open to smaller groups with a donation requirement of $150 - $200 per volunteer, without needing to meet our minimum. These projects have preset dates, times, and park locations for a collaborative day of service with other dedicated volunteers. Please inquire about the current list of dates.
- Have a larger group? We have experience planning projects with up to 600 employee volunteers.
- Additional project packages are available, including multi-day service efforts in one or multiple locations. We are flexible and open to working with you to best fit your goals.
